Army JROTC & Character Education

JROTC has arguably, one of the most rigorous and effective career-related leadership curriculums. JROTC's leadership development curriculum begins with instruction about leadership theory, which teaches Cadets motivational principles, individual and group management practices, decision making skills, and interpersonal relations. As JROTC Cadets progress through the program, they experience opportunities to lead other Cadets. Cadets follow a chain of command, enabling lower classmen to observe the upper classmen lead, teach and make decisions, before assuming the role themselves. Observing leaders in action enables Cadets to experience authentic responsibility for others, which can instill in them genuine concern for the success of the larger group; a key component of effective leadership.

Qualified Instructors

In order for a retired officer or noncommissioned officer to be employed as an instructor in the program, the officer must be certified by the Secretary of the military department concerned as a qualified instructor in leadership, wellness and fitness, civics, and other courses related to the content of the program.

NDCC

A National Defense Cadet Corps Program is virtually identical to JROTC except it is fully funded by schools or through school partnerships with sponsoring organizations or businesses. The school incurs all costs, to include salaries, uniforms, and daily operational expenses.

Establish a NDCC Program

Go to www.usarmyjrotc.com "Establish Program". Select JROTC Application/Contract and/or NDCC Application/Contract. (NDCC units are readily available but the school funds the entire program. Schools that want a program immediately often fill out both applications in hopes of eventually changing over to a JROTC Program.) Once the application is reviewed and a unit is conditionally approved, a site survey is conducted to ensure the facility and administrative support is sufficient.

Premiere Junior Leader Development Model

Army JROTC is one of the few programs available in the school schedule that has such a profound impact on motivating students to excel. JROTC has the mentors, tools, and organization to overcome many of education's common challenges. Maximizing enrollment in the JROTC Program is one of the smartest decisions an administrator can make.
