

Turn your industry certifications into college credit at SJR State

Congratulations on earning your industry certification. You have taken an important step toward your future, and we're excited to help you continue your education.

Your industry certification may qualify for free college credit at St. Johns River State College, helping you save time toward your degree, reduce college costs and get a head start on your career.

WHAT DO I DO NEXT?

1. Contact an Academic Advisor
   Meet with an academic advisor to discuss opportunities and determine which program is right for you.

   An advisor will help you understand how your industry certification applies to your program and plan your next steps. SJRstate.edu/advising

2. Gather Your Certification Documentation
   Bring official documentation of your earned industry certification to your advising appointment so it can be evaluated.

3. Apply to St. Johns River State College
   If you have not already, complete your application to get started as a student. SJRstate.edu/admissions

You have already accomplished something great. Now, let's build on it!
